

I Have Been Accused of Sexual Violence

As a person accused of sexual violence, you have a right to be heard.

You have a perspective that you would like to share and may struggle to find the best person to speak to. George Brown College has resources to assist you as you navigate this process.

Contact a Sexual Violence Response Advisor to assist you with options and next steps.

CONSENT — GET IT!

This means that when a complaint of sexual violence is received it will be investigated fairly and without bias.

The person who has been accused will have the opportunity to share their perspective with the investigator and will be able to bring a support person with them to this meeting if they so choose.

Investigations all follow the same format:

- Notice of investigation
- Meeting with an investigator
- Summary of findings
- Decision making
